

CCIM College Permission

<https://capturingcourage.org>

In accord with Capturing Courage International Ministries general policies, I have Permission to teach CCIM College to those in my network and region.

I understand that:

- CCIM College is a gift to the body of Christ, from it's author, Cynthia F. Lavoie (DD Hons), Executive Director CCIM
- CCIM College is meant to be taught pastors to pastors, leaders to leaders, peer to peer.
- CCIM College can be used as school curriculum in which case reasonable fees can be charged for the education provided.

As the one passing on the teachings and certificate, I am responsible to:

- determine criteria for certification
- list the particulars of class formation, either in a classroom or in a conference setting, with what was taught listed on the certificate
- sign the certificate thereby taking responsibility for what was taught and what was required to receive the certificate

C A P T U R I N G C O U R A G E

I have permission to pass on this course to others as the Lord leads me. I am responsible for what I have taught.

I have permission to pass out certificates, within the guidelines listed above, to my students. I am responsible for the certificates I give out.

This permission is given me, as general procedure available to anyone, from Capturing Courage International Ministries, Head Office, Canada, College of Capturing Courage International Ministries.
